Revolutionizing Engineering Diversity

Stephanie Farrell
Professor and Chair, Experiential Engineering Education
Rowan University, USA
President, ASEE
Origins of Formal Education
Technological Revolution
Electrodermal Evidence

Poh and Picard (2010)
Revolutionizing Engineering Diversity

Expanded conception of diversity

- Women
- Racial and ethnic minorities
- LGBTQ+
- Low Income and First Generation to College
- Students with disabilities
A systematic approach to building inclusion

A multidimensional framework

Institutional Commitment

Access & Success

Inclusive Pedagogy

Affirming Climate

Shorter-Gooden, p. 451
Acknowledgement

This material is based upon work supported by the National Science Foundation (NSF) under IUSE/PFE-RED Grant No. 1632053